My career in business law spans 25 years. I began by practicing commercial litigation with a large firm, followed by eight years as in-house regulatory counsel for one of the largest financial services firms. For the last decade, I've served as the primary in-house counsel for a Texas-based financial services firm—with my help, they've grown from a start up to a multi-office, 120-employee firm and handle a range of complex business lines. Thanks to my extensive professional experience, I've attained a wealth of knowledge and skills, both broad and granular. From legal advice and risk management to complex litigation, contract negotiation and beyond, I've delivered effective guidance and efficient problem-solving to businesses of all sizes. I prefer to work with clients as part of a team—fostering a relationship that drives the business, its goals and our shared community values forward. I'm originally from the Chicago area but moved to Texas where I lived and worked for 27 years. Since 2017, I've lived in Atlanta, Georgia, with my husband Bill and our dog Hilde. Together, we enjoy long walks and frequent pub visits in our Reynoldstown neighborhood. View my education and experience.

About Me

My extensive professional experience over the last 25 years has granted me a wealth of knowledge and skills, both broad and granular. I started my career practicing commercial litigation with a large firm, followed by eight years as in-house regulatory counsel for one of the largest financial services firms in the country. For the last decade, I've served as the primary in-house counsel for a Texas-based financial services firm; with my help, they've grown from a small start-up to a multi-office, 120-employee firm that handles a range of complex business lines. I moved to Atlanta in 2017—by way of Chicago and Austin—and happily settled in Reynoldstown with my husband Bill and our dog, Hilde. Together, we enjoy long walks and frequent pub visits in and around the neighborhood. Learn more about my education and experience on LinkedIn.

FAQs

+ Do you take on individual clients or just businesses?

+ Are your clients limited to the financial services sector?

+ Do you work on a contingency basis where the client pays nothing upfront and you get paid a portion of funds received?

+ Can you refer me to other counsel if you are not the right fit for me?

+ Would you accept shares in my company as full or partial payment for legal services?

- Can you help me with my divorce, custody, personal injury, or criminal matter?

While this isn't my focus, I have helped individuals who are caught in expensive disputes involving multiple layers of attorneys better evaluate and problem-solve the situation in the past. As I find this work personally rewarding, feel free to schedule an initial consultation to discuss whether I'm the right fit for your needs.
